What can History Day students get out of the Archives Crawl?

You may be able to find a research topic that relates to this year's theme: Triumph & Tragedy in History. Many of the archives and libraries at the event have historical material that would make for appropriate and distinctive history day projects. Be sure to ask the archivists about the primary sources found at their institution. Archives are a great place to find primary sources – from photographs to letters to diaries and much, much more.

What local history topics are relevant to this year's History Day theme?

Be sure to ask the archivists for their ideas about the History Day theme and how historical material in their archive could be developed into a project. Below are some examples to help you get your brainstorming started:

- The Tragedy of the Sacramento Squatter's Riot of 1850
- California's State Capitol: How Sacramento Triumphed
- The Triumph of Reform: The 1921 Sacramento City Charter
- Economic Tragedy: Hoovervilles and Hobo Jungles along the American River
- The West End & Capitol Mall Projects: The Tragedy of Sacramento's Redevelopment
- Sacramento Attorney Nathaniel Colley and the Triumph of Civil Rights
- Triumph or Tragedy?: the 1964 Annexation of North Sacramento

Archie the Archivist's History Scavenger Hunt

K-12 students and adult participants who correctly answer ten of the twelve questions that follow are eligible to enter a drawing for a chance to win an Amazon Fire HD 10 tablet (K-12 winners) or a WD 4TB Personal Cloud Storage external hard drive (Adult winner)!

Participants must visit all four crawl locations, view the primary source material at the appropriate stations, and record their answers to the questions on the page that follows. Look for signs that indicate the stations for you to visit at each crawl location. Record your answer on the line for the appropriate question. Respond only to the questions that match your grade/age level. The questions are either multiple choice or true/false. If you need assistance, please ask the archivists and librarians at the station. Please do not share your answers with other participants. Entries must be submitted for scoring at any of the four host locations by 4 p.m.; the winners will be randomly drawn and notified by Tuesday, October 9, 2018. The odds of winning are based on the number of eligible entries received. Family members of Sacramento Archives Crawl staff and volunteers are not eligible to win.
